

Annapolis Water and Sewer Users:

The Annapolis City Council recently approved higher fees for water and sewer service for the fiscal year that starts July 1. Following are details about the rate changes and how you might minimize the impact through water conservation.

These increases will impact every resident and business in Annapolis, and they could not come at a worse time. But they are necessary because for too long we have been paying artificially low fees that have contributed to our deficit each year. The new rates will allow the city to fund and maintain the critical infrastructure for future generations while making the city's water and sewer enterprise funds self-sustaining.

Thank you for your understanding. Inquiries about the new rates should be directed to the City of Annapolis at 410-260-2299 or mayor@annapolis.gov.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Joshua J. Cohen". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

Joshua J. Cohen
Mayor
