

City of Annapolis Commission on Aging 2009 Senior Forum

September 1, 2009

PRESS RELEASE: IMMEDIATELY

On Wednesday, October 7, 2009, the City of Annapolis Commission on Aging will sponsor its Sixth Senior Forum, at the Annapolis Senior Center Wiley H. Bates Heritage Park, located at 119 South Villa Avenue, Annapolis, Maryland.

All senior city residents are welcome to attend the forum, which will feature both private and municipal agency exhibitors and panelists. The purpose of the Forum is to provide seniors in the City with the best and latest resources available to them on topics such as healthcare: continuing care, medical products/services and legal advocacy, Alzheimer disease, public safety, transportation, Senior Center services, housing, assisted living, and finances.

Becki Batta, director of the Annapolis Senior Center will provide a presentation on current services offered to seniors residing at the Wiley H. Bates Heritage Park Center.

Public Safety Panel: Annapolis Police Department, Annapolis Fire Department, Public Works, Transportation, Neighborhood and Environmental Programs, Recreation and Parks Departments, and Branch Banking & Trust (BB&T) Bank.

Healthcare and various community service providers will be given in more detail in the coming weeks.

For more information, please contact Mr. Hank Heggins, Chair for the Commission on Aging at 410-991-2668 or Ms. Teddra Reese, Office of Youth and Community Affairs, 410-280-1462, email: threese@annapolis.gov.

Kirby J. McKinney, Liaison to Commission on Aging
Office of Youth and Community Affairs
City of Annapolis, Mayor's Office
151 West Street, Suite 102
Annapolis, MD 21401
Office: 410-280-1460
Fax: 410-280-1326
TDD: Relay 711
E-mail: kjmckinney@annapolis.gov
Website: www.annapolis.gov