Annapolis Police Host Inaugural Naptown Trot

Annapolis Mayor Michael Pantelides and Police Chief Mike Pristoop invite everyone to get involved and support Special Olympics Maryland by participating in the Inaugural Naptown Trot 5K.

The Annapolis City Police Department will host the 1st Annual Naptown Trot 5K Walk/Run to Benefit Special Olympics Maryland on Saturday, March 28 at 7:30 a.m.

The Naptown Trot will be in a wave format, which will allow all levels of runners and walkers to participate. There will also be a Team Competition category, allowing friendly competitions between Police and Firefighters, Health Clubs, Running Shops, Restaurants and local businesses.

This is a mostly flat course through the Annapolis Historic District. It begins at Calvary United Methodist Church at 301 Rowe Boulevard, turning right onto Rowe Boulevard from Herbert Sachs Boulevard, continuing on Rowe Boulevard to College Avenue, around Church Circle to Main Street, down Main Street to Randall and King George Streets, and then turning onto MD 450 and Taylor Avenue to return to Herbert Sachs Boulevard. Roads will be closed as runners and walkers move through the course.

Visit the website at www.naptowntrot.com to register, sponsor a runner or learn more about the event. You can also register the day of the event at Calvary United Methodist Church from 6:30 to 7:30 a.m. with the first wave of runners starting at 7:30 a.m. An awards ceremony will take place at the completion of the race.
