“The Annapolis Police Kids Club is another way the Annapolis Police Department is reaching out to the community we serve,” said Chief Michael Pristoop. “We understand that communication and involvement with the community is vital to overall police-community relations. The APKC is another venue for positive interaction between law enforcement and community members.

Mission Statement

APKC is an organization within the Annapolis Police Department that aims to create positive and meaningful interactions between officers and kids through engagement, accountability and educational opportunities.

Goals

To foster a positive relationship between law enforcement and the community.
To participate in a variety of activities while learning leadership, teamwork and sportsmanship.
To utilize a learning and social environment to build skills and understanding.

Enrollment

APKC is designed for children ages 9-12 who reside in or near the City of Annapolis. The number of children enrolled in the program shall not exceed 25. Consistent attendance is an important component of the program. Children must attend the majority of meetings to remain in the program.

Meetings

APKC will meet once a month for a couple of hours. The meetings will consist of educational presentations, physical activities, interactive hands on activities, practical exercises, outdoor play, and outings. Educational presentations will be age appropriate and will cover topics such as, ethics, gang awareness, safety, online safety, and bullying.

APKC will also attend local sporting and cultural events.
