

RePlant Annapolis

In partnership with

With support from the Helena Foundation

Are you looking for low-cost native trees to plant in your community? Become a Tree Trooper!

RePlant Annapolis- a city-funded tree planting program - is helping the city achieve 50% urban tree canopy by 2036.

We rely on volunteer community leaders trained through our Tree Trooper program to help us find places that need trees and oversee tree planting projects.

Apply now to become a Tree Trooper! This free training features 4 virtual sessions and one in person planting event this fall. You'll learn all about how trees grow, which trees are best for you, how to engage your community and more!

To apply, please visit our website at <https://aawsa.org/tree-trooper> and fill out our interest form (located under Become a Tree Trooper).

The application deadline is April 12th

The first training session begins on the evening of April 18th

The program offers native, resilient trees that are:

- 4-6ft tall
- Easy to plant
- Cost from $20 to $40 per tree, including mulch and deer protection. **Free trees are available for some communities.*

View our full list of resilient trees at

aawsa.org/resilient-species

Our staff can help you find one that is right for your yard, school, or congregation.

RePlant Annapolis is a signature program of the Anne Arundel County Watershed Stewards Academy, a local non-profit organization that trains & mobilizes community leaders to drive change for sustainable landscapes & clean waters.

Learn more at aawsa.org

Questions about the Tree Trooper training? Please reach out to WSA's Restoration Director, Jeffrey Popp at jeff@aawsa.org